17. A SUPPLEMENT to the Act, entitled, An Act for erecting Part of the Counties of Philadelphia, Chester and Lancaster, into a separate County.
18. An ACT for regulating and continuing the Nightly Watch, enlightening the Streets, Lanes and Alleys, in the City of Philadelphia, and for other Purposes therein mentioned.
19. A SUPPLEMENT to the Act, entitled, "An Act for the better Regulation of Servants in this Province and Territories."
20. An ACT for vacating a Part of a Road in the Township of Passyunk, and for confirming a new Road laid out and made instead thereof.
21. An ACT for preventing Tumults and riotous Assemblies, and for the more speedy and effectual punishing the Rioters.

L O N D O N, December 6.
SPEECHES made in the ROBINHOOD SOCIETY on the 27th ult. in consequence of a Motion concerning the Power of the Attorney General to file official Informations.

C-----ne P-----, who made the Motion, spoke first; and this was the Purport of his Speech.
NONE can deny that a general cry has gone abroad against the exercise of the power lodged in the hands of the Attorney General to file official Informations. The island, from one extremity to the other, rings with outcries for its extirpation. And no wonder; for it is but a cousin-german of the Star-chamber. Its very nature and constitution is arbitrary, and incompatible with the spirit of a free government. The Attorney General is an officer removable at pleasure. As a Minister's breath creates, so a Minister's breath annihilates him. A mere drudge of the day, he is tossed, buffeted, and kicked about by the Ministry, like a shuttlecock or football. They give the magical word, and presto pass; he flies upon their errand with the dexterity and legerdemain of a juggler's cups and balls. When they have stamped any measure with their almighty fiat, he must not say nay. His negative would be impiety. They would immediately hurl him down from his airy height, like a fallen angel. Farewell to all hopes of three thousand a year in pension; farewell to the office of Chief Justice in Eyre. Adieu to the King's bench; adieu to the Chancellorship. Can we expect from men, agitated by such hopes, and such fears, that unbiassed integrity, that stubborn, that unshaken virtue, which could alone do justice to the public in so slippery a situation? Experience forbids us to entertain such extravagant notions of human perfection. The Gentlemen of the long robe, destitute of passions and other failings as they are, will not pretend to such high strains of sanctity. If they should, I fear the public will not give them much credit. Men will ever be suspicious of those whom they see putting their fellow-subjects to enormous expences, without giving them the least chance of avoiding it by a previous exculpation. The Attorney General, of his own mere motion, or by the mandate of a Secretary of State, christens any paper by what name he pleases. He calls it an infamous, a seditious, or treasonable libel. After this arbitrary construction, this discretionary name, he files an information, and commences a prosecution, without hearing any evidence, without examining a single witness, without receiving any other affidavit, without making the least previous enquiry. Can any thing favour more of tyranny and despotism? If the culprit should, in the course of the trial, be able to justify his conduct, or if the Attorney, despairing of success, should enter a non prosequi, yet he may be ruined by the expence. So that any person obnoxious to a Minister or Attorney General, or to a Minister or Attorney General's pimp or footman, may, by this process, be unjustly oppressed.

This picture I do not mean to apply to the present times, because I do not complain of them. They may be bad; there may be malversation, there may be oppression. But as they have not reached me through any authentic channel, I do not intend to lay the least stress upon vague report, and uncertain hear-say. I wish to have it understood, that I rest my present motion on its own internal merit and rectitude, unaided by any collateral support from any spirit of resentment or redress, which might arise from a view of the actual state of the office in question. Those who have lately occupied that post may, for aught I know, have been pure and immaculate. I have not the most distant view of censuring their conduct; nor is it my design to treat the office as illegal. I will allow that it has the sanction of the common law, and of antiquity. But, while I make this concession to the sages of the long robe, I must deny that it is constitutional; because, in a free government, nothing deserves that name, if it be contrary to its genius and spirit. Its being a part of the common law, is no argument in its favour, since the common as well as the statute law may err, both being but the works of fallible men. Now this power is evidently contrary to the spirit of the constitution, because it is contrary to the spirit of liberty, which admits not of arbitrary discretion in the disposal of mens persons or properties. Yet this is the case in the first stage of the process instituted by the Attorney General. He is absolute master of the person and property of the most innocent man in the kingdom; he may file an information against him; he may get him apprehended; he may ruin him with costs. Can any institution be more diametrically opposite to the whole system of our jurisprudence? Have we every where else erected mounds and bulwarks against the encroachments of tyranny, with no other design but to leave here a free opening for the inroads of the monster? But what occasion, you will say, is there for stopping up the gap in such blessed times as these, in this golden reign, when law and justice have kissed each other? Your objection is the very reason that urges me to strike the iron while it is hot, and to place such a precious possession as liberty beyond the reach of danger. It is not every day that we can expect such a wise and patriotic Ministry as the present. Let us improve the opportunity, and provide against future and possible mischief. Every one knows that in past times the power in question was greatly abused. So many instances of this truth are upon record, that it would be tedious, and even nauseous, to enumerate all. I will mention two or three which have happened since the reign of Edw. III. for though I have made the most diligent inquiry, I have not been able to find any earlier than that period; a circumstance that seems to give but little countenance to the antiquity of this power. The first instance is that of a poor book-feller, who was in a state of insanity, and yet was fined 100l. for something called a libel, published by his servant, without his privity or consent. The second is that of an Attorney-General, called to the bar of this House for an improper exercise of his authority. He pleaded, very properly, as an excuse, that he received the information literally as it stood from the Secretary of State, and that he acted only as a passive instrument in the execution of his office. It would be idle to produce the many examples which occur in the reigns of the Stuarts; they are too numerous, and too well known, to be specified. Let us come nearer our own age. I have in my pocket the affidavit of a man, who declares that he was sick in bed, when his servants inserted in his news-paper the obnoxious words for which he was prosecuted and imprisoned by the contrivance of an Attorney-General. What more is requisite to induce us to cut off this rotten limb of the constitution? If men have been bad (and that they have, experience cries aloud) they may be bad again. Unlimited power is not to be trusted in any hands; it will debauch the most generous nature, and involve its own destruction in the general ruin. This truth, as well as the reasonableness of the motion, appears so evident to me, that I cannot doubt of the general concurrence of all honest and conscientious men. That they may be fully master of the subject, I beg that you will desire the Clerk to read the act of William III. which is the basis of the motion.

W----- E-----'s Speech, in Reply to C-----ne P-----, was in Purport as follows.

I LOOK upon our political constitution, and upon the human body, as somewhat a-kin. If you tamper too freely with either, you endanger its health. Experience teaches us, that the human frame is gradually impaired and wasted by the frequent use of medicines, and a too anxious care of life. It has no greater enemies than the laboratory and the chymist's shop. What quacks, apothecaries, and young practitioners, are to the body; innovators, meddlers, and youthful patriots, are to the constitution. Pills, boluses, and electuaries, prove not more injurious to the one, than motions, bills and resolutions of amendment, do to the other. A certain latitude of regimen is necessary for both, and if you leave nothing to chance, and to their own natural strength, you will spoil them by your excessive refinement. A speculative politician, fresh from the schools, differs widely from the practical statesman, whom experience has rendered sage. The former, carried away with every wind of new doctrine, fancies that he sees improvements in shadows and chimeras, and with a rash, untutored hand, overturns the venerable establishments of antiquity, in order to make room for his own inventions. The latter, sensible of the great reverence which men entertain for the monuments of their ancestors, will be cautious of offering them any violence, lest he should be suspected of impiety, and expose his country to those convulsions which so frequently attend innovations. It is not every well meaning man that is fit to undertake such a work. Mankind are so wedded to ancient practices, that any alteration in an essential point requires great delicacy. Some think that no juncture is proper for such an operation, but a time of public disorder and confusion, when every thing is unhinged and loosened from its natural holdings. I am inclined to their opinion. At least I cannot think this the proper moment for such a change in the constitution.

The honourable Member allows the Attorney General's power of filing official Informations to have the sanction of antiquity. Why then should it now be abolished? Is it because there is no further occasion for the office? Is it because we are now become perfectly righteous, perfect enemies to all calumny, to all scandal and abuse? Is it because no more libels, no more lampoons are published, and because our political writers are religious observers of decency, candour, and truth? No. I believe the mover of this question will not be hardy enough to hold this language. He must, with the moderate of all parties, confess, that this power, if ever necessary, is peculiarly indispensable at this juncture. For when did ever an envenomed curiulity rage with such lawless fury? When was every thing venerable and sacred ever treated with such indignity? When did Majesty, when did the Senate, ever sustain such rude, such ruffian attacks? Nothing now is secure from the virulence of the press. Its black gill overflows, and poisons the fairest flowers in the nation. Youth is not safe in its innocence, nor beauty in its defenceless condition.

Dignity and station are vilified and traduced. It has become a kind of reproach to be great and noble. The grey hairs of the most experienced, the most approved Counsellors, are ridiculed; his wisdom and gravity are but dotage and foolishness. Gallantry and heroism no longer fix a soldier's character. It signifies nothing to have planned, to have fought, to have conquered. You must be of a particular faction, to be lauded by the imps of the press. You must belong to the Bill of Rights, to the Club at Appleby's, or at the Prince of Orange, to have the voice of the people, which is the voice of God. There is no salvation for any man who is not of that sect, who is beyond the pale of that church. He is interdicted, excommunicated, and damned. No fire, no water for him. He becomes anathema maranatha, throughout the land.

This is no overcharged picture, no caricatura, no monstrous Representation. The whole is drawn and coloured by the pencil of truth. When this concession must be extorted from the most inveterate prejudice, can any prudent, any candid, any honest man advise this Assembly to assent, or even abridge that authority, which is the chief, if not the only effectual check, that the constitution has provided against this dangerous abuse? No. It is impossible. We cannot be too well armed, we cannot have too many guards against these secret assassins, that indiscriminately stab in the dark, and go about seeking whom they may devour. I say devour. For what are they but cannibals, that make a hungry meal of mangled characters, and murdered reputations! They live upon you, they live upon me, they live upon every man, whom their malignity can traduce. Ought not every man then, who has any reputation to save, to join in crushing them, and, instead of removing any of our present defences, to add new bulwarks against this invasion?

Indeed, if it had been shewn that any unwarrantable use had been lately made of the authority in question, there would have been some ground for this motion. But I do not find this to be the case. The honourable mover has made no such charge, and from his seeming averments to that discussion, would lead me to conclude, that no malversation of this nature exists. Why then should we, when not urged by the spur of necessity, make such a material change in our antient constitution? The monarchy has now subsisted for many ages, and grown up to this magnitude, with this power interwoven with the system of its laws. Had it been any unnatural excrecence or wen, it would have been long ago cut off. Let us then be contented with the scheme of government erected by our wise ancestors, and deliver it unaltered to our posterity.

To say, that because this power has been abused, it may be abused again, is no sufficient ground for innovation. For where is the institution, however good and laudable, that has not been abused? Juries, the corner-stone of our constitution, have abused their authority. The liberty of the press, another palladium of our rights, has been abused. Why then does not the honourable gentleman move for the abolition of juries, and the extinction of the liberty of the press? He may do it with equal propriety. The same argument will serve his purpose. Accordingly, if he carries his point to-day, I expect that he will pursue this plan. Nay, I expect that he will move for a bill to exterminate the Christian Religion. For what has been more abused? Nothing but the liberty of making motions, and proposing bills for the amendment of the constitution.

St. James's, December 4.

THE following Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of Dublin, having been transmitted by his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland to the Lord Viscount Weymouth, one of his Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to the King: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of Dublin, in Common Council assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,
We your Majesty's most dutiful, loyal, and affectionate Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of your faithful City of Dublin, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave humbly to approach your Majesty with the most sincere Assurance of our steady Attachment to your Majesty's illustrious Person and Family, and our ardent Wishes that your Reign over us may be long, and as transcendently distinguished as your Virtues.

Emboldened by our Experience of that Attention which your Majesty affords to every Part of your Subjects, permit us, most gracious Sir, to represent, at the Foot of your Throne, that from some Defects in the present Laws, relative to Corn, Flour, and other Necessaries of Life, in the Laws affecting the Police of this City, and from the Expiration of several temporary Statutes, a Situation in which we most humbly conceive we can only be relieved by the Meeting of Parliament, your faithful Subjects of this Metropolis experience many and great Difficulties, and apprehend yet greater.

Pardon, most gracious Sovereign, that we presume further to submit to your parental Goodness, that certain public Works, necessary to the Commerce of this City, which were begun and promoted by national Bounty, must be indebted to the same Bounty for their Completion; and that your Subjects of this Metropolis, who, by large Importations of the Manufactures of Great-Britain, have provided for their domestic Consumption, which in every alternate Year encreases, in Proportion to the Number assembled for national Business, do already feel a Decay of their Trade and Credit, even from a temporary Decrease of Inhabitants.

Grateful for the many Blessings derived to us from your Majesty's parental Affection, and conscious that relieving the Wants of your People succeeds to the Knowledge of them, we presume to obtrude our Cares upon your Majesty's more weighty Concerns; and humbly beseech your Majesty to take these our Circumstances into your royal Consideration, and to grant us such Relief as your Majesty in your royal Wisdom shall think fit.

In Testimony whereof, we have caused the common Seal of the said City to be hereunto affixed this 29th Day of October, in the Year of our Lord, 1770.

Nov. 27. It is said 20 large flat-bottomed boats, of an entire new construction, and capable of mounting the heaviest artillery, are ordered to be built with all expedition.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dublin to his friend in London, Nov. 21.

"A new grievance of an interesting nature calls loudly for redress; and that is, a combination amongst the Bankers not to discount any bills or notes, which has given such a stagnation to trade as cannot well be expressed. What first gave rise to this was, Lord D---l wanted to remit a large sum of money to England, which his banker would not negotiate under a premium which his Lordship thought too exorbitant. The consequence of which was, he carried over the specie himself, to the amount of no less a sum than 175,000l. which threw such an instant check on the circulating cash of this kingdom, as to produce the above effect."

The toast of the day is, "The Liberty of the Press, but not of the Impress."

Dec. 3. In the year 1755 we had near 40,000 effective Seamen in the Government service; the year following about 60,000; in 1757 little more than 70,000; the succeeding year, somewhat less than 90,000; in the memorable year 1759 rather above 100,000; and before the conclusion of the war, upwards of 120,000 Sailors in actual service.

The Clerk of a great house in the city went off express yesterday morning for Holland, on certain intelligence, from the west end of the town, of a great alteration in the system of politics that is to take place in a day or two, by which an immense sum will, it is thought, be gained by our stocks, which are there traded in as much as in Change Alley. He had orders to go over in a fishing smack, or any other vessel that could be procured, let the expence be ever so great.---Some say the intelligence is for peace.

An evening paper says, "We are informed, that Lord C---m has sent to one, if not all, of the worthy Aldermen, who discharged the impressed men, to soften the speech he made reflecting on their conduct."

It is now strongly asserted, that no rupture will take place with the Spanish Court this year; what a few months may produce is not easily to be determined. It is farther given out that an English Messenger will again set off for the Court of Madrid some time this week, and that his return is fixed for the beginning of January.

No embargo has been laid on the English vessels in any of the Spanish ports, the policy of the Court of Madrid being too great to give us so recent reason for umbrage after the affair of Falkland Islands; and the heads of the Bourbon Compact could not then in justice give them the stipulated assistance which, in case of their being the aggressors, is forfeited.

The King of Prussia has just established a Commissary at Hamburg, to whom all the wood in his Prussian Majesty's Dominions is for the future to be consigned. This new arrangement hath occasioned a great commotion among the Timber Merchants, whose dealings there were very considerable; and several of them, it is thought, will be obliged to throw up trade, which will be a great disadvantage to the City of Hamburg.

It is said that the long-proposed plan for augmenting the Corps of Engineers, is at length carried into execution by Gen. Conway, the present Master General, from a conviction that 60 Engineers are by no means a sufficient number, even in times of the profoundest peace.

In the 24th of Queen Elizabeth, there were found, on a general Muster, only 13 Ships of War; and 133 Ships of considerable Burden, belonging to all the Subjects of England.

December 6.

A Letter from Plymouth, dated Dec. 2, says, "The Press here has been very hot, and the Gangs have picked up a great Number of useful Hands: They have taken all the Men from on board the homeward bound Ships, which have touched here, except the Captains and Mates; and many Sailors have been brought from the adjacent Country Villages, who had secreted themselves there; so that the Ships here have got near their Complement of Hands on board, and will be ready to sail in a few Days. Many fresh Hands are employed in the Dock Yard to fit out several Ships, which are soon to be put into Commission. The Wasp Schoop of War is arrived from Ireland with impressed Men."

Yesterday a patriotic Nobleman made a Motion in a most respectable Company, "That the Capacity to be chosen a Representative of the Commons in P---t being under known Restrictions and Limitations of Law, an original inherent Right of the Subject may be cognizable by Law, and is a Matter wherein the Jurisdiction of the H---e of C---s (though unappealable as to the Seat of their Member) is not final or conclusive." He enlarged greatly upon the Middlesex-election, and urged the Necessity of dissolving the P---t, which he declared by seating C---l L---l, and rendering Mr. W---s incapable of being elected, had infringed the Rights of the Electors.

Extract of a Letter from Gainsborough, in Lincolnshire, to a Person in Leeds, November 26.

"All this country is under water, from within one mile of this place quite down to Burton-Rather, being a space of above 20 miles in length, and 6 miles in breadth; from 3 to 9 feet deep; all the corn and hay-stacks are either swept away or spoiled; the wretched inhabitants were obliged to live in their chambers for 6 or 7 days; but (thanks to God) the waters fell considerably yesterday, day, though we are in great fear that they will rise again the spring tides, as there are four great breaches in the banks of the Trent. Many hundreds of poor families are entirely ruined."

The following is said to be authentic.---Lord C---m, in Wednesday's debate, took notice of the late instructions that had been given to Juries in Westminster-Hall, with regard to libels. Lord M---, in answer, said, that the doctrine he had laid down had been consistent with the uniform practice for this century; that seven Judges had approved it; that few were living, and that three were dead; that the doctrine was established upon the clearest ground of law. Lord C---m, in answer, said, that if he conceived him right, the doctrine was, "that libel, or not libel, was a matter of law, and was to be decided by the Bench; and the question to be left to the Jury to determine, was only the fact of printing and publishing;" to which Lord M. assented. His Lordship then, with Lord C---m, expressed his astonishment, both declaring, that they had never understood that to be the law of England, and concurred in wishing, "that a day might be appointed for an enquiry into the conduct of the Judges, who had advanced such a doctrine."

Dec. 12. It is now in Agitation to send a Fleet to the East Indies, which, it is thought, will sail some Time in January next.

We are assured that his Excellency the French Ambassador is indefatigable in his Endeavours to bring about a Reconciliation between the Courts of Great-Britain and Spain, scarce a Day passing without a Conference between him and some of our Ministers on that Subject.

Extra of a Letter from Portsmouth, Dec. 9.

"His Majesty's Ship Britannia of 120 Guns, is getting ready here among the rest. The Name of 90 Guns, will be at Spit-head in a few Days. What a superb Fleet we should have at Spit-head against the Spring, had we but Birds to put in our lofty Cages, and what Power durst look us in the Face?"

The judicious Sir William Petty calculates, that a tenth Part of the whole Expence of the King of England's Subjects, is sufficient to maintain yearly One hundred thousand Foot, Thirty thousand Horse, and Forty thousand Seamen; and to defray all other Charges of Government.

Dec. 13. The grand Question in a certain great Council is said to be, whether to proceed to Extremities directly, or to negotiate some Time longer.

Dec. 15. The following appeared in Falkner's Dublin Journal of the 4th of December.

"Whereas the bank of Sir George Colebrook and Co. have advertised their being under a necessity of deferring the Payment of their Notes for a short Time, which may cause a diffidence in the other banks in this City, that may prove injurious to the trade and manufactures of this kingdom:

"Now we, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Nobility, Gentry, Merchants, and Traders of this City, whose names are hereunto subscribed, being thoroughly sensible of the secure foundations of the houses of Messrs. David Latouche and Sons, Messrs. William Gleadowe and Co. Messrs. Thomas Finlay and Co. and Messrs. John Dawson, Coates, and Patrick Lawless, do hereby declare, that we will continue to take the notes of the said houses, as cash, in all payments made to us. Dublin, Dec. 3, 1770.

Townsend, Lifford, Annaly, J. Beresford, Phil. Tisdall, Mar. Paterfon, Ant. Foster, George Macartney, W. Olborn, Nath. Clements, Hen. Cavendish, Ant. Malone, John Mely Hutchison, John Bourke."

A like agreement has been entered into by a body of the Merchants of Dublin, with respect to the houses of Messrs. David Latouche and Sons; Messrs. Gleadowe and Co. Messrs. Finlay and Co. and Messrs. John Dawson, Coates, and Lawless.

Number and order of the Speakers; length of time, and impartial character of each Speech, in a certain Assembly, on a particular occasion.

1. L-d G---e, 20 minutes. Timid; infipid; frigid.
2. Mr. R---se, 10 minutes. Uncommonly eloquent.
3. Sir C---S---s, 5 minutes. Brave; honest; just.
4. Sir W---M---th, 20 minutes. Manly; sensible; spirited; solid.
5. C---l B---e, 40 minutes. Eloquent; bold; pathetic; reasonable.
6. L-d B---n, 15 minutes. Tirefome; ridiculous; non-sensical.
7. C---l B---e, 5 minutes. In justification of some expressions made use of in his first speech, and observed on by the last person. Proper.
8. Mr. B---ke, an hour. Violent; rambling; flimsy; figurative; laboured.
9. L-d N---h, 40 minutes. Sensible; interesting; judicious.
10. C---l B---e, 2 minutes. In answer to an observation in the last. Right.
11. Mr. B---ke, 1 minute. Ditto.
12. L-d B---n, 10 minutes. In vindication of himself, and of certain odious measures. Despicable; dull.
13. Mr. D---f---ll, 10 minutes. Heavy; trifling; unjust.
14. L-d N---h, 3 minutes. In answer to some observations in the last. Suitable; well delivered.
15. L-d C---re, 2 minutes. On a ridiculous observation of D---f---ll's. Well-timed; well handled; humorous.

War-Office, Nov. 28, 1770.

The Hon. Major General McKay, is appointed Col. of the XXI. or Royal North British Fusiliers, in the Room of the Right Hon. the Earl of Panmure. Major General Urnston, Col. of the 65th Regiment, in the Room of Major General McKay.

His Majesty has been pleased to remove Thomas Gamble, Esq; Assistant Quarter Master General in North America, from the XVth to the XVth Regiment of Foot.

Dublin, Dec. 4. The advertisement from the Bank of Sir George Colebrook, and Co. in this Day's Dublin Gazette, is as follows:

"Whereas by a most extraordinary and unexpected demand for money at the Bank of Sir George Colebrook and Co. the Cash of said Bank has been so far exhausted, as to make it necessary to forbear payments in ready money for a few days: The Proprietors of the said Bank, to prevent any uneasiness and apprehension in the creditors of the said Bank, as to the safety of their demands, and the speedy discharge of the same, beg leave to inform them and the public, that there are bills and accepted notes in the said Bank to a very great value, which, with the other capital stock of the said Bank, amount to upwards of 60,000l. more than sufficient to discharge all demands thereon; and from thence, and the great property of the partners concerned in said Bank, amount to many hundred thousand pounds, the said Bank cannot fail of being furnished with cash in a very short time, sufficient to answer every purpose; the creditors of the said Bank are therefore requested, not to be impatient or uneasy; and such of them as wish to be paid in cash may expect notice in a few days to bring in such notes as are of the value of 30l. and under, in order to be paid the same before Christmas; and as to all other persons having demands on the said Bank, they may be assured that the Proprietors have no doubt of being able to pay them in cash in a very short time afterwards."

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) Jan. 10. The General Assembly of Georgia, have re-appointed BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Esq; Agent to solicit the Affairs of that Province in Great-Britain.

Feb. 7. Although the Damage done here, by the Storm on Wednesday the 30th past, to the Shipping, the Wharves, and the Fortifications (which last were demolished in the Gale of the 7th of June) is inconsiderable; yet we are informed, that it has been very severely felt to the Southward as far as Georgia, where the Tide rose to an Height beyond the Memory of any Man; and that the Gale was not less violent at St. Augustine.

The 25th of last Month, one who went by the Name of Luke Dean; but whose real Name is said to be Charles Caldwell, was taken up at Savannah in Georgia, accused by one Robert Cooper, of the Murder of Andrew Smith in Ireland 19 Years ago.

Feb. 12. All our Accounts from the West-Indies seem to indicate, that a War with Spain is unavoidable; the savage Treatment the English daily meet with from the Dons at Porto-Rico, &c. are insults the British nation can never brook.

PORTSMOUTH, February 22.

Five Coasting Vessels were cast away, we hear, in the late Storm, between this Port and Cape Elizabeth; and one or two Lives lost, but who they are, or any further Particulars, cannot at present learn. Many Vessels, it is feared, are absent further to the Eastward.

B O S T O N, February 25.

The Captain of a Vessel lately arrived at Cape Ann, some Time the Beginning of last Month, spoke the Ship Newry Packet, Charles Robinson, Master, in Lat. 19 25, N. Long. 25 West, from Philadelphia to Newry, out 30 Days, all well.

N E W - Y O R K, March 4.

Some of the Letters received by the Packet mention War as doubtful, while others say it is inevitable; however we hear a Company of Light Infantry is to be added to all the Regiments in America; and 20 private Men to each Company; also that another Battalion is to be added to the Regiment of Artillery; and that most of the Line of Battle Ships in the English Navy are put in Commission.

Last Thursday Night were taken up a few Miles from this City, on Suspicion of breaking open several Stores in Philadelphia, John Sanders and Nicholas Brown, alias Richardson.---The noted Charles Lee, (who made a public Appearance about three Weeks ago through this City, as also at the Whipping-Post) is of this Gang, and we now hear he is also taken, when it is hoped such a Wretch will meet with his due Reward. They are now on their Way to Philadelphia.

March 11. A Gentleman, that left Gibraltar the 11th of December, acquaints us, That when he came away, the Garrison of that Place consisted of 7 Regiments, and 400 of the Royal Regiment of Artillery, and that 3 Regiments more were daily expected there from Ireland; but left only one Frigate in the Harbour, having sailed in Company with Captain St. John, in the Edgar, of 64 Guns, bound for Lisbon, in order to get Cash to pay the Garrison: That the Spaniards had in the Neighbourhood of St. Ruke, and Algazara, about 8 Miles from Gibraltar, between 20 and 30,000 Men; that he himself saw many Thousands of them, having obtained a Pass to go a few Miles into Spain, and that the most of the Spanish Troops were ordered to their Sea Ports, as they were apprehensive, in Case of a Rupture with England, of being visited by a British Fleet.

Monday last his Excellency the Governor was pleased to prorogue the General Assembly of this Colony to this Day; by which Prorogation Captain Alexander M'Dougall was enlarged, after a Confinement of three Months, wanting three Days.

The Melting of the late Snow swelled many of the Rivers in this and the neighbouring Governments to such a Degree, that several of the Mill-dams are broke down, and the Mills greatly damaged thereby. At Peek's Kill in this Province, the Mills of Beverly Robinson, and Charles Moore, Esqrs, are entirely carried away, and some others on the same Stream received considerable Damage.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.

To the PRINTER.

GENTLEMEN,
Your additional Favour in publishing the inclosed (if acceptable) will further oblige
Yours respectfully,
A. C.

March 11, 1771.

I AM much obliged to your Correspondent who files himself a Contributor, for the favourable Opinion he entertains of the Piece, which you were pleased to publish in your Gazette of the 28th ultimo.---If I have said any Thing in my last, that might be construed as reflecting on the Managers of the Hospital, I am sorry for it; nothing of that Kind was intended by me, nor was I the least apprehensive of giving Offence to them by my Remarks; however, I am much pleased with the Observations of your Correspondent, respecting the Conduct of those Gentlemen, who, it appears, had good Reasons for omitting to make Distinctions in the List of Contributions, which at first appeared to me might have been necessary.

The Contributor has explained, in a very agreeable Manner, one of my Motives for my last Publication, which was, to take that Opportunity, of bringing into the more immediate View of the Public, that charitable Institution, the Pennsylvania Hospital, and if any "Benefit" should arise from it, it will give me much Pleasure, that my Time was so well employed.

However faint my Endeavours for the aforesaid Purpose may have been, I am glad I was the Means of the Contributor appearing upon this Occasion, who with great Propriety informs the Public, that "many Hundreds of poor diseased Persons, have partaken of the Benefit of this extensive Charity, and that even those who have died, have had their Distresses so much alleviated by a comfortable Provision, that with their expiring Breath, they have had Occasion to bless their Benefactors."

How great must be the Pleasure to every humane Mind arising from this Reflection, that they have been instrumental, in moderating the Afflictions of such unfortunate Persons, and have contributed to the entire Relief of many, who might without Assistance have died in great Distress.

When I compare the different Situation of the rich Man with that of the Poor and Miserable, how great appears the Contrast: The rich Man enjoys himself in Affluence, his Heart's Desires are gratified---he commands, and his Orders are soon obeyed; but many of the Poor are diseased, hungry, scarcely clothed, in Want of all Things, and praying for Consolation:---Such as these are proper Objects of Charity, and for such the Hospital was generously instituted.

Seeing then that such an Institution is so happily established, every Person in good Circumstances has the Opportunity of conferring a Benefit, where he may have the peculiar Satisfaction of knowing, that his Benevolence will be properly applied: The Managers are Men of Fortune, who attend the Service without Gratitude:---The Physicians and Surgeons are of the same beneficent Dispositions, and freely give their Time, and employ their Skill, in this most noble Cause, to relieve from their Distress the Needy, and grant Assistance to the Wretched.---That "People of all Denominations" have contributed to so good a Purpose, is a pleasing Truth:---Their Compassion has been largely extended to the Poor:---They have been taught, as a celebrated Author has expressed it, "to feel another's Woe," and by their Conduct it appears, they are possessed (in some Degree) of the same sublime Sentiments of Charity, which must have affected the Heart of that great Man, when he prayed,

"That Mercy I to others show,
That Mercy show to me." AMOR CHARITATIS.

Last Thursday Night the Assembly Room of the State-House in this City, was broke open, and the Charity Box, with some Money in it, belonging to the Hospital, carried off. A Reward of TEN POUNDS is offered, by Order of the Assembly, for apprehending the Felon or Felons, to be paid on Conviction.

The same Evening, betwixt six and seven o' Clock, one Jacob Crothoupe entered the House of Mr. George Cooper, Skinner, in Second-street, near Christ-Church, went up the Stairs, broke open the Door of his Chamber, also a Desk in the Room, and the Door of a Drawer in the Desk, from which he took One Thousand and Fifty Pounds, in Gold, Dollars, and Paper Money, and got off with it undiscovered; but a Reward of Fifty Pounds for the Robber being offered next Morning, he was quickly taken up, when he owned the Robbery, delivered up all the Cash, but a Trifle, which he had laid out, and was committed to Goal.

The Ship Molly, Captain Duncan, from this Port, is arrived at Charles-Town, in South-Carolina.

On Saturday Night last came on here a violent Gale of Wind at East North-East, which continued to blow exceeding hard all the next Day, attended with very heavy Rain, which, we hear, has done a great Deal of Damage among the Mills, Bridges, Fences, &c. in the Country, and likewise to the Wharves, and Small Craft in the River.

Mr. Tilghman's Piece, coming too late for this Week's Paper, must be deferred till our next.

* The Members of the American Philosophical Society are desired to be punctual in attending their Meeting, at their Hall, To-morrow Evening, at 6 o' Clock.

BY virtue of a writ to me directed, will be exposed to public sale, on Saturday, the 30th of March inst. between the hours of 12 and 4 in the afternoon, on the premises, a certain plantation, or tract of land, situate in Biberly township, near the Red Lion Tavern, containing about 202 acres, about 20 acres whereof are good meadow; there is also an orchard of good fruit; said land is bounded by Potquessing Creek, and lands of Benjamin Walton, Edward Duffield, and John Jackson; on said plantation are erected, a two story stone messuage, two rooms on a floor, a stone kitchen, adjoining the house, barn, stables, and convenient out-houses; also a well of water before the door; late the estate of David Thomas, deceased; seized and taken in execution, by JUDAH FOWLER, Sheriff.

N. B. There is also a small tenement, fit for a tradesman, on the above premises.

BY virtue of a writ to me directed, will be exposed to public sale, on Friday, the 22d of March, between the hours of 5 and 7 in the evening, at the house of John Zeller, in Race-street, A certain three story brick messuage, brick kitchen, stable, and lot of ground, situate on the south side of Sassafras or Race-street, in the city of Philadelphia, containing in breadth 49 feet 6 inches, and in depth 204 feet; bounded eastward by ground of the German Reformed Congregation, southward by ground late of Richard Pitts, westward by ground
now in the tenure of Daniel Montgomery, and northward by Race-street aforesaid; late the estate of Peter Wager, deceased, seized and taken in execution by JUDAH FOWLER, Sheriff.

To be sold by public vendue, on Saturday, the sixth day of April next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of George Maxton, at the Yellow Springs.

A VALUABLE plantation, or tract of land, well known by the name of the YELLOW SPRINGS, situate in Pikeland township, Chester county, about 30 miles from Philadelphia, containing 150 acres, one half or more cleared, the other well timbered, and the whole watered by never failing streams; about 20 acres of watered meadow, and more may be made; having thereon erected a good stone dwelling-house, two stories high, 57 feet front, and 36 in depth, a fine piazza in the front, the whole breadth of the house, 8 or 9 feet wide, good cellars and chambers, kitchen, barn, stables, and other out-houses. At a small distance from the above mentioned dwelling-house, is a good new log-house, weather boarded, and painted, well finished, with fast windows, about 35 feet front, and 18 deep, two stories high; and adjoining the said building is another good log-house, about 18 feet square, which has been occupied as a store for some time, having a good spring and milk house, even, and other conveniences, very handy, with a garden paved in. The dwelling-house on said plantation is now used as a public house, and is so well accustomed, as to have from 100 to 300 people daily for the summer season, besides the unhealthy and infirm that come from all parts, and take loggings for weeks together, for the benefit of the waters. There are three bathing springs, which can be emptied or filled in a very little time; two of them are inclosed by good frame houses, 35 feet front, and 16 deep; each bath has a drawing room, and one a fire place in it; the buildings are neat, and make an elegant appearance, having glass windows front and back, and walks, with rows of shady trees, up to the dwelling-house. On the premises is also erected a saw mill, double geared, and a grist mill may be very conveniently made, there being plenty of water, about 27 feet head and fall; the whole
now in the tenure of George Maxton.

Also another plantation or tract of land, situate in Pikeland township, Chester county, about 28 miles from Philadelphia, on the road leading to the Yellow Springs, containing about 177 acres, above one half of which is cleared, 15 acres thereof being meadow, and much more may be easily made; the other part is well timbered, and the whole watered with never failing streams. Thereon is erected a good dwelling-house, with barns, stable, and other out houses, now in the tenure of James Macilheney. The title and conditions will be made known on the day of sale, by CHARLES MEREDITH, JOHN REEA, GEORGE MEADE, WILLIAM CRAIG, and SAMUEL C. MORRIS, Assignees.

N. B. A field of wheat, supposed to be about 25 acres, to be sold separately.

Those persons indebted to JOHN BALEY, are desired to pay without further notice, or they will be proceeded against as the Law directs.

Philadelphia, March 10, 1771.
ON the 9th day of May next, at the London Coffee-house, in the said city, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, will begin the sale of THREE valuable TRACTS of LAND, formerly supposed in Worcester county, in Maryland, but now known to be within the grant of the Proprietaries of Pennsylvania, at the heads of the branches of Indian and Pokamook rivers, into which the whole may be easily drained, and are known by the names of Unity Grove, with its refinery, and Lebanon, lately purchased by John Pennell, of Colonel John Dagworthy, and now under the care and management of John Jones, consisting of the finest and best of cedar swamp, gum,
and maple swamps, the upland abounding in beach, poplar, pines, white and other oaks, all of a flourishing growth, containing in the whole near 4000 acres, and all but the refinery old patent land, at Two Shillings a hundred quirent; the whole to be divided into smaller tracts, as may best suit the purchasers, except the tract called Unity Grove, which contains about 800 acres, has on it the houses, gardens, and other improvements, and near 300 acres thereof are choice cedar swamp, for which reason, it is thought, it cannot well be divided into parcels. On the refinery adjoining it is a complete well constructed saw-mill, built last year, with the best of stuff, well covered with cedar shingles, it being on the verge of the cedar swamp, may have an inexhaustible supply for ages, of the best cedar, pine, gum, beach, poplar, white oak, maple, holly, &c. this tract contains 900 acres, blended with very rich swamp, and rich upland, easy of culture. The tract called Lebanon, of 2160 acres of the same quality, being also interpersed with rich cedar and gum swamps, and large timber trees, of divers sorts; both Unity Grove and Lebanon are within 7 miles of navigable water to Philadelphia. A plan of the whole, with their several divisions, may be seen at the London Coffee-house, and at the houses of John Reynell, and John Miffin, in Philadelphia, trustees for the creditors; on paying one third of the purchase-money down, 12 months credit will be given for the remainder, on giving good security, and paying interest from the day of sale.

Philadelphia, March 12, 1771.
ON SATURDAY, the Thirtieth Instant, at Twelve o'Clock, at the LONDON COFFEE-HOUSE, will be SOLD
by PUBLIC VENDUE,

The famous grey Horse
NORTHUMBERLAND.

Baltimore, March 9, 1771.
GENUINE, or AMERICAN INOCULATION.
MR. HENRY STEVENSON, Surgeon, acquaints the inhabitants of Virginia and Maryland, that he in-cubates as usual, according to the most successful American system. Mr. Stevenson has reason to believe that he has incubated with as much success as could possibly be expected, having lost only 17 out of many thousands. Negroes will be ensured, as usual, at 5 per Cent.

N. B. The public may be assured, that his method is very easy, and nearly the same with that used and approved by the most able practitioners to the northward and southward, and very different from the Suttonian. As his Desire is to be of as much service to himself and mankind as he possibly can, he is determined to bring the American system, to its Ne plus ultra; and there is no Suttonian from Halifax to Florida, to his knowledge, authorised to inoculate in the same manner.

SIX POUNDS Reward.

RUN away on the 17th of December, 1770, from the subscriber, living in Baltimore Town, Maryland, a servant man, named Samuel Deale, an Englishman, about 24 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, slender made, brownish bushy hair, pale complexion, down look, pretends to be a Doctor, and a great horse farrier, and will pretend to any thing, is handy in a kitchen, and is a low, artful, insinuating fellow, much addicted to lying; he can write, and probably will forge a pass.
Took with him one half worn brown faggath coat, his other clothes not known. He was taken up, and committed to Cecil county jail by the name of William Johnson, and was there some time before he would own his master; he broke jail, and made his escape, and it is probable he will change his name. Whoever takes up said servant, and secures him in any jail, so as his master may have him again, shall have Three Pounds, and if brought home, the above reward, including what the law allows, paid by MARK ALEXANDER. 6 W.

SIX DOLLARS Reward.

RUN away from the subscriber, living in Uwchland township, Chester county, on the 5th of this instant March, an Irish servant man, named JOHN COUGHLAN, about 22 years of age, about 5 feet 6 inches high, dark brown hair, dark complexion, a furly countenance, talks remarkably short and fast, and hath much of the brogue on his tongue; had on, when he went away, a new felt hat, a small striped cotton and silk handkerchief, a light coloured jacket, patched on several parts, white linen under jacket, tow shirt, buckskin breeches, dark yarn stockings, strong shoes, with nails in the heels and soles; but may change some of his clothes, and his name, he being addicted to lying and stealing. Whoever takes up said servant, and secures him, so that his master may have him again, shall have the above reward of Six Dollars, and reasonable charges, paid by me JOHN LEWIS. 6

Philadelphia, Second Month 25th, 1771.

Living on the premises,
ONE half of the MILLS in said place, the mill-house large, and as commodious as any in the province, a pair of stones, the bolis all going by water, and in good repair, situated in a very good wheat country; together with a neat dwelling-house, two stories high, a cellar under the whole, a kitchen adjoining, also a merchant shop, 30 feet by 16, a good pork-house, smoke-house, cooper's shop, and a new barn, with 10 acres of very good cleared upland and meadow. The person owning the other half of said mills, will also sell his part;
with about four acres of meadow.

Also a plantation in Lower Freehold in said county, containing 250 acres, more or less, about one half of it good meadow ground, and as much of it cleared as will make 40 tons good English hay the first crop, about 30 acres of the upland cleared, on which there is a good dwelling-house, barn, waggon-house, cooper's shop, framed corn crib, and barracks for hay, and a good orchard, distant 5 miles from Middletown Point, a public landing, where the produce of the country is carried to New-York.

Also two plantations, situate upon Middletown Point Creek, in said county, adjoining each other, containing 200 acres apiece, each having erected thereon a good dwelling-house, barn, and other out-houses, all in good repair; also a quantity of good clover and salt meadow upon each; the upland good for raising of wheat, and conveniently situated for oysters, clams, and fish. For further particulars, enquire of JOHN cellar under the whole, a large stone kitchen, a well of very good water at the door, a barn, stables, and other out-buildings; about 20 acres of meadow, a very large and good orchard, a spring-house, an apple-mill and press; it has been a noted public-house many years, and is counted a very good place for a store, or any public business. For further particulars, enquire of Thomas Cuthbert, sen. in Penn-street, opposite Lombardstreet, and near to Messieurs Willing and Morris's st. re.

THOMAS CUTHBERT, senior.

To be SOLD, or exchanged for Houses or Lands,
in or near the City of Philadelphia.

A CERTAIN TRACT of LAND, in Gloucester County, West-Jersey, directly opposite Market and Chestnut-streets, in Philadelphia, containing 100 Acres, 70 whereof is Woodland; bounded northerly by a Street 100 Feet wide, southerly and easterly by Lands of Daniel and William Cooper, and westerly by the River Delaware, on the front of which its breadth is about 900 Feet; which Tract, from its Situation, is capable of great Improvement, as it is a suitable Place for erecting another Ferry, and in all Probability may, in a few years, be disposed of in Lots, to great Advantage, in erecting a Town, as it will suit for many Persons to reside there, and en-

Philadelphia, December 10, 1770.
THE subscriber having removed from the house he lately occupied in Fourth-street, next to the College, to Second-street, near Arch-street, and next door to Michael Hillegas, Esq; at the Sign of the SEVEN STARS, begs leave to acquaint the public in general, and his customers in particular, that he continues to keep entertainment for man and horse, as usual; and as the house he now lives in is a very convenient one for the said business, and an old accustomed tavern, having all conveniences for waggons and travellers, and in good repair; he therefore hopes that all who please to favour him with their custom, shall meet with such usage as will be agreeable, and their favours will be gratefully acknowledged by their humble servant,
DIDRICK REES.

WILLIAM EVANS,
TAYLOR and HAT-MAKER, from LONDON.
BEGS leave to acquaint the Public, and his Friends in particular, that he commences Master at his House, in Arch-street, where Mr. Holliday lately lived, to make Gentlemen's Clothes, Ladies Mecklenburgh, and all Sorts of riding Dresses, in the most genteel Taste, and newest Fashion. Those Ladies and Gentlemen that will please to favour him with their Commands, may depend upon being served in the very best Manner, as he flatters himself he will give a general Satisfaction.

Published according to Act of Parliament.
THE great and learned Doctor SANXAY, of London, first physician to the nobility and gentry, his MEDICINES, consisting of a box of alexipharmic pills, a bottle of imperial golden drops, and a pot of specific purging electuary, which together radically cure, without confinement, the Lues Venerea, in all stages and circumstances whatever, the leprosy, scurvy, gleet, and weaknesses of all kinds, in the reins and loins.
Many medicines, within this century, have been made and offered the public on sale, as specifics for the cure and relief of patients labouring under that loathsome weight, the venereal disease: Some medicines, indeed, which possessed a very little insignificant portion of efficacy in them, that scarcely would relieve, not able to cure, the least complaint in the venereal way, have been pushed into the world, ornamented with a respectable crowd of attestations; and others, whose direction bills were decorated with all possible flowers of rhetoric and language to enforce their sale, are, with their boasted virtues, universally condemned, and in perpetual oblivion, by men of sense and candour, for their want of power, efficacy and virtue. This assertion is a well testified known truth, and all physicians upon earth know it.
The medicine, which is now generously laid before all impartial medical judges, will be found exactly agreeable to the best improved and most refined practice, not in this only, but in future ages; and, on due trial, will be confessed by the most able physicians in Europe and America, to be completely possessed of every power, efficacy and virtue (without mercury) to subdue, expel the poison, and effect a cure in a very little time, of every the worst and most obdurate symptoms of the Lues Venerea; besides the scurvy, leprosy, gleet, and all weaknesses of the reins and loins whatever.
In private practice for more than 30 years past, no medicine ever was administered with the same success; its superiority over every other known medicine will astonish every physician who chuse to make use of it in his practice: An alteration for the better will be greatly visible in a few days use; and it is peculiar to the operation of this medicine, that at the same time it eradicates the disease, it acts as a powerful restorative.
In operation it is perfectly innocent, safe and mild; very soon will it raise the patient to health and strength, and enervate a decayed constitution; so friendly to nature is this grand restorative, that every of those feelings which attack young men from debaucheries, and persons who have lived regularly and advanced in years, are removed, and the natural powers of the vital system are preserved, comforted and prolonged.
A full printed plain direction is given with the medicine, that any person, in his own house, or on a journey, or at sea, may cure himself, without the least inconvenience, or imparting the secret to a bedfellow.
This is the first medicine ever offered the public on sale, that speedily, safely and perfectly performs a cure in all the stages and symptoms of the venereal malady, gleet, and all weaknesses in the reins and loins, &c. It is therefore hoped, the gentlemen, &c. who may become benefited from the exceeding great power and efficacy this medicine is possessed of, will be a sufficient inducement to recommend it to their friends and acquaintances.
Sold by THOMAS ANDERTON, Bookseller, in Market-street, opposite the lower end of the Jersey market, of whom necessary advice, in all cases, may be had gratis, and secretly depended upon; letters, post paid, duly answered.
N. B. The medicine is to be had of WILLIAM DIBBY, Post-ridger, from Philadelphia to Virginia; all commissions left with Mr. BALLY, the sign of the White Horse, in Annapolis, duly executed.

THIS is to give notice to the public, that there is now a man committed to Trenton goal, Hunterdon county, by the name of Richard Gallaher, about 23 years of age, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, fair complexion, short fair hair, and a scar on his right cheek; wants a tooth under the said scar; the above said Gallaher has on a blue broadcloth coat and jacket, a short jacket, the fore parts snuff-coloured, and back parts winestone, black callimanco breeches, new shoes, and brass buckles, not fellows. He is thought to be the property of James Patterson. His master, if any, is requested to come and take said Gallaher out of confinement, otherwise he will be sold to pay cost and goal fees.
PETER BLANKINSON, Goaler.

The place abounds with excellent pine timber, remarkably convenient to the mill. There is a dwelling-house thereon, some wheat land cleared, meadow may be made, and every thing in good order. The subscriber has several other places to rent, or dispose of; and also a tenement and lot of five acres, with a good bearing orchard, about 14 miles from this city, on Oxford road, thought to be a fine situation for a store. Any person, or persons, inclining to purchase, rent, or take on shares any, or all of the said places, may know the terms, by applying to the subscriber, at his house in Fourth-street, near Market-street, Philadelphia.
ALEXANDER POWER.

N. B. The subscriber intends to be at Mr. William Power's, in Shearman's Valley, Easter Monday and Tuesday next, being near most of the said places, where those gentlemen inclining to deal, may have an opportunity of seeing the premises.

THE partnership of NEAVE and HARMAN being dissolved, those persons that are indebted to them, are desired to discharge their accounts; and as there are many who have far exceeded the usual time of credit, they will please to observe, that if they are not speedy in settling their accounts, they will be sued without further notice.

MADEIRA and Teneriffe WINES, by the pipe, hoghead, or quarter cask; Jamaica spirits, melasses, coffee, allspice, ginger, and a few dry goods, to be sold by NEAVE, HARMAN, and LEWIS, at their store, the corner of Second and Spruce-streets.

Philadelphia, February 11, 1771.

AL L Persons indebted to the Estate of ISAAC WILLIAMS, late of this City, Tavern-keeper, deceased, by Bond, Note, or otherwise, are requested to make immediate Payment to MARY WILLIAMS, Executrix of the said Deceased; those to whom the said Estate is indebted, are hereby desired to exhibit their Accounts to the said Executrix, as expeditiously as possible. And all Persons who are indebted to the said Mary Williams, since her Husband's Decease, are desired to pay their respective Debts, as she is determined to relinquish her present Business, as soon as Honour will permit.

TO BE LETT,

A COMMODIOUS house, bake-house, and lot of ground, situate in Race-street, between Second and Third-streets, and but a few doors from the corner of the latter; they will be let together, or separate, as may be most convenient. A convenient house, with back buildings, &c. in Second-street, next door to the subscriber, and nearly opposite Lyn-Ford Lardner, Esquire.

A small tenement, barn, &c. with two (to five) acres of ground, in Kensington, and is very conveniently situated for any person disposed to attend the market. For terms, apply to
+ LEONARD MELCHER.

To be SOLD, or RENTED,

And may be entered on in April next, A PLANTATION, in West-Cala township, Chester county, containing about 230 acres, 40 miles from Philadelphia, on a public great road leading from Wilmington to Lancaster. There is lately erected thereon a two story stone dwelling-house, well finished, it is a good place for keeping a store, having been used for such lately. For terms apply to JOSEPH DEAN, in Front-street, Philadelphia, between Market and Chestnut-streets. The 6 W.

SMITH'S Royal Patent Medicinal SNUFF,

So justly famous for the CURE of most DISTEMPERS. THIS excellent Medicine operates on the Head as a Stimulator and Purgative, on the Stomach and Lungs as an Attenuator, and on the Blood and Juices as an Alterative.

By its Operation on the Head, it cures recent Lunacies, Dizziness, Deafness, inflamed Eyes, and Defect of Sight; breaks and carries off Imposthumations, Quinsies, and enlivens the Spirits, quickening and awakening them from incoherent and lethargic Stupor, disperses all growing or congregated Vapours, creating intense Pain in any Part of the Head, Face or Gums, and the Polypus in the Nose, it gradually eradicates.

By the like Power on the Stomach and Lungs, it dissolves coagulated Matter, formed by bad Air, diseased Fluids, or other Casualties; thus removing all Obstructions, the Original of most Diseases, it suddenly relieves the Asthma, Catarrh, and Phthisick, recovers to the Stomach and Nerves their genial Tone and Action, and utterly annihilates all hysterical Disorders.

By its efficacious alterative and purifying quality, it cleanses the Blood and Reins from all vicious concrete Impurities, and cures the evil, scorbutick, leprous Humours, and pestilential Fevers, banishes all Relicks of unskilful Physicking, and re-establishes the whole Animal Oeconomy in all their natural Functions.

Its singular Use and Excellence consists in being pleasant in the Taking, happy in the Operation, and morally certain in the Cure; hinders no Business, Eating, or Drinking; not causing, but preventing and curing Colds.

The Manner of its Operation is various, as the Habit of the Body inclines, but most generally by the Channel of the Nose, or Urine, the most ready or least disagreeable Way of carrying off all Obstructions.

It is excellent in all nervous Disorders, by the Assistance of a Pill, called the Nervous Pill, which operates as a gentle Opener and Purifier. Likewise a Preparative, called Tinctura Amara Indiana, that comforts and strengthens the Stomach, assists Digestion, and gives Vigour to the Appetite.

An Ointment to be used outwardly in leprous, evil and gross Habits, removing the external Scurf, in Proportion as the Snuff eradicates all internal Obstructions, gives the Blood, and Juices that feed it, a free Circulation, and purifies the whole Mass.

These are all so safe in their Operations, that People of any Kind of Occupations may not be obstructed at the Time of taking them, they chiefly acting as Alteratives.

By Appointment of the Patentee, the above Medicines are to be sold by CHRISTOPHERS and CHARLES MARSHALL, Druggists, at the Sign of the Golden Ball, in Chestnut-street, Philadelphia.

Where likewise may be had, Drugs and Medicines in general, Paints, Dye-stuffs, &c. &c. Wholesale or Retail, at the lowest Rates. Boxes of Medicines for Ships, or private Families, put up in the best Manner, with proper Directions, Cecil County, January 15, 1771.

N. B. He says he has worked about Christiansa Bridge, and that Mr. Samuel Patterson knows him.

TO BE SOLD,

For CASH, or good BONDS on Interest, FIVE valuable tracts of patented lands, on the branches of Little Cacapon, in Hampshire county, in Virginia, containing in the whole 1250 acres, which being situated in a very thriving country, now settling by great numbers of industrious farmers, from the Jerseys and other provinces, and convenient to three very good markets, viz. Alexandria in Virginia, George-Town on Patowmack, and the flourishing town of Baltimore, must of course in a little time become very valuable; about one half of each tract is extraordinary bottom, capable of producing either hemp or grass, the upland is chiefly a limestone soil, and well stored with timber, and very proper for wheat, or any other grain; and as said tracts lie in a broken country, at a small distance from each other, they must ever command an extensive range for stock; the quitrent only Two Shillings sterling, per hundred. For terms, apply to JOHN COX, junior, Merchant, in Philadelphia; SAMUEL PRUVANCE, junior, in Baltimore-Town; or JOHN STEELE, Tavern-keeper, at the red house, 12 miles from Watkins's ferry, on Patowmack. Mr. Steele will shew the lands to any person disposed to purchase. Sept. 3, 1770. The 3 m.

Baltimore County, Maryland, Feb. 2, 1771.

TO be sold by the subscriber, 500 acres of land, within 5 miles of the lower ferry, and within 3 miles of the second ferry of Salsquebanna, and on each side of the roads leading from both ferries, where they meet; there is a well accustomed tavern now kept by James Carlson, and was formerly kept by Thomas Miller; there is a good stone dwelling-house, and log-house, with 5 rooms below, and other upper rooms, a convenient kitchen, good cellar, store-house, barn, stable, and other out-buildings, good pasture ground and plow land, meadows and orchards; other improvements on other parts of the aforesaid land are such as log dwelling-house, barn, stable, meadow made and to make, orchards, fresh ground for this year's crop. The whole will be sold together or in quantities, as may best suit the purchaser from 25 acres to 100, more or less, but would suit best to be divided into three, as there are three separate dwellings, and improvements on the same, such as orchards, meadows, and good fresh ground as before mentioned; the whole is well watered and timbered, lies very convenient for market, a landing within three miles, where water carriage to Baltimore-Town may be had reasonable, is near to fishing, near to mill and meetings of different sorts, a good sufficient right and title shall be given for the whole, or any part thereof; as also a saw-mill within half a mile of said landing, and in a very good place for timber. To be SOLD, by the SUBSCRIBER,

And entered on the 25th of March, A SMALL but valuable plantation, situate in Alloway's creek township, in the county of Salem, in West New-Jersey, adjoining a public road, leading from Salem to Cohansey Bridge, and two miles from a noted landing on said creek, called Quinton's Bridge, where abundance of slaves and cord wood are transported to Philadelphia, and not above 5 miles from Salem, 4 from a glass-house, and near several grist and saw-mills, and near sundry places of worship, and a school-house settled on one corner of the land, containing 86 acres of land, about 30 whereof are cleared, and about 17 or 18 acres of good rich swamp meadow, the greatest part in good grass, and a great quantity more might, with a small expence, be made, all in one entire body, and adjoining the upland; the improvements are, a good dwelling-house, almost new, 27 feet by 20, two rooms on a floor, with fire-places in each room, good stone cellar under the whole, kitchen, barn, apple and peach orchard, and an excellent well of water at the door, floned up. For further information, and terms of sale, apply to LEWIS OWEN, Shop-joiner, in Salem. Feb. 5, 1771. ¶

WHEREAS John Arndorff advertised me, his wife, in the Dutch papers, of the 15th of December, 1770, that I went often from him; therefore, I am obliged, for my own character's sake, to let the public know the ill usage I have received from him; in the first place, he took me out on the King's highway, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock at night, and abused me in a most barbarous manner, and called the Devil, three times, to come and tear me to pieces, before his face, all to persuade me to confess, that I had defiled his bed; the next night following, about the same hours, he took me out again, took the testament with him, and forced me to lay my fingers thereon, and said they should become black if I had defiled his bed, which terrified me so that I was foolish enough to do so; another time he took me up stairs, and tied my hands behind me, with a plow line, to a post, till my mother came there, he then being ashamed unloosed me; at another time he drove me over a fence, I then ran into the house, he followed me, and beat me, and fastened me up in the hog-slye, and after that he abused me in a barbarous manner, and said he would break my limbs, if I staid another night in the house; and, moreover, has advertised that no body should trust me on his account, though my credit is full as good as his, he not being able to pay his just debts; therefore, I forewarn any body, at their peril, to give him credit on my account, for I will pay no debts of his contracting.
BARBARA ARNDORFF.

WHEREAS, some time in the year 1769, the subscriber gave his bond to a certain John McCullough, and the said McCullough afterwards gave several orders on the subscriber, to the full amount of the bond, which are all paid; and whereas the said McCullough has since left these parts, notice is hereby given to all persons, not to take an assignment of said bond, as the same will not be paid by
